

2018 ABC ALGEBRA WORKSHOP

10-11 November, 2018

University of Washington

The “ABC algebra workshops” is a series of PIMS-sponsored research workshops on algebra and related topics. Originally designed to bring together researchers from the Universities of Alberta and British Columbia (thus the acronym ABC), these workshops have attracted participants from other parts of Canada and western United States. The current workshop is the first in this series to be held at the University of Washington.

This event is part of the PIMS CRG on Geometric and Cohomological Methods in Algebra
