

PIMS PUBLIC SCREENING AND LECTURE SERIES: THE MAN WHO KNEW INFINITY

Nov 23 & 24, 2016

University of British Columbia

Nov 23, 2016: Movie Screening CIRS 1250, 5:30pm

The Man Who Knew Infinity is the true story of friendship that forever changed mathematics. In 1913, Srinivasa Ramanujan (Dev Patel), a self-taught Indian mathematics genius, traveled to Trinity College, Cambridge, where over the course of five years, forged a bond with his mentor, the brilliant and eccentric professor, G.H. Hardy (Jeremy Irons), and fought against prejudice to reveal his mathematic genius to the world. The film also stars Devika Bhise, Stephen Fry and Toby Jones. This is Ramanujan's story as seen through Hardy's eyes.

This is a free screening, though RSVP required. Please register at <http://www.pims.math.ca/scientific-event/161123-ppstmwki>

Nov 24, 2016: Public Lecture Ken Ono (Emory University) AERL 120, 4:30pm

KEN ONO is the Asa Griggs Candler Professor of Mathematics at Emory University. He is considered to be an expert in the theory of integer partitions and modular forms. He has been invited to speak to audiences all over North America, Asia and Europe. His contributions include several monographs and over 150 research and popular articles in number theory, combinatorics and algebra. He received his Ph.D. from UCLA and is the Associate Producer of the film, The Man who knew Infinity. The title of his lecture is Gems of Ramanujan and the Legacy and Lasting Impact on Mathematics.

More information on the lecture is available on the PIMS Webpage at <http://www.pims.math.ca/scientific-event/161124-pplkou>
